

Network Manager
nominated by the European Commission

Fever Dream Theatre and Sunday's Child present

Nuclear Family

Written By Eva O'Connor and Hildegard Ryan
Directed by Jonathon Carr and Hildegard Ryan

Tuesday 27th September 2017, 13:45-1530
Human Factors & Systems Safety: People in Control
Belgocontrol, Brussels

Decisions must be made.
What would you do?

"High-stakes, interactive drama" Broadway Baby

"The choices that must be made are enough to make anyone glad that they don't have a job with that much responsibility over life and death" The Wee Review

"The mix of social interaction and intellectual engagement make for a gripping experience" The Scotsman

Nominated Brighton Fringe Award 2016

Nuclear Family

Ashtown Nuclear Plant is in meltdown. Trapped inside, worker siblings Joe and Ellen must make a series of increasingly desperate decisions to avert disaster and save thousands of lives.

In this gripping interactive theatre, audiences must step in and make decisions. Racing against the clock, the heart-breaking and high octane decisions will test mettle and morality, their choices will directly impact the story.

Fever Dream Theatre, together with EUROCONTROL, will offer a fun, interactive and informative experience for staff to explore issues around decision making under uncertainty.

Following the show, there will be a Q&A and facilitated discussion to discuss the real world implications of some of the issues raised in the show.

Running time: 1 hour 20 minutes (no interval) plus Q&A.

For more information:

Tony LICU - Head of EUROCONTROL Network Manager Safety Unit

antonio.licu@eurocontrol.int

Steven SHORROCK - Senior Expert Safety and Human Factors

steven.shorrock@eurocontrol.int

www.feverdreamtheatre.wordpress.com

